Re : Office fit out Project Management, Casablanca, Morocco

I confirm that following detailed appraisal, LAZRAC MANAGEMENT SA was appointed by McKinsey & Company as the developer to carry out a complete turnkey service for the construction and fit out of a new office, Casablanca, Morocco. The scope of the project included architectural, civil / structural design and multi-discipline engineering and project management services.

The total area constructed and fitted out was approx 327 sq m covering 15 work stations, a Data Centre and support areas. The project is fully backed up with UPS. The project was executed to a very tight deadline with an outstanding safety records and was completed on budget.

Throughout all phases of the project Rachid Lazrak and his team exhibited a flexible, can do approach to the project and their personnel conducted themselves in a professional, ethical manner at all times.

I would have no hesitation in recommending Rachid Lazrak and his team to other prospective clients wishing to avail in their services in Morocco.
